

Friend or Foe by Michael Morpurgo

1. What time in History is this story set in?
2. The train journey must have been unpleasant in several ways. Which do you think were the worst and why?
3. The awful journey had an even worse end as it looked as though there would be no bed for the boys. What sort of person did you think they would end up with that night?
4. Choosing between helping the enemy or not was difficult.
 - a) What were the main points for and against?
 - b) Did David make the right choice, in your opinion?
5. Did you find the ending of the two Germans' story satisfying? How would you have ended their part in the book?
6. The book could have given Mr Reynold's wife, Ann, a different and more important storyline. How would you have developed her story?
