

The Wind and the Sun

The Wind and the Sun were arguing about which was the stronger.

Suddenly they saw a traveller coming down the road.

The Sun said: "I see a way to decide our argument. Whichever of us can cause that traveller to take off his coat shall be the stronger. You begin."

So the Sun retired behind a cloud, and the Wind began to blow as hard as it could upon the traveller.

But the harder he blew the more closely did the traveller wrap his cloak round him, till at last the Wind had to give up in despair.

Then the Sun came out and shone in all his glory upon the traveller, who soon found it too hot to walk with his cloak on.

Kindness works better than unkindness.
